

UNIVERSITY OF
CENTRAL FLORIDA

Women in Data Science (WiDS) Conference

WOMEN IN DATA SCIENCE
ORLANDO

Monday, March 4, 2019

Morgridge International Reading Center, UCF Main Campus

9:00 a.m.-2:00 p.m.

Join experts from UCF, Stanford University and industry to learn more about how data science is reshaping industries like healthcare, aerospace, cyber, Fintech and more. Leaders will share their insights, talk about the future and discuss how women are uniquely qualified to impact the field.

Program:

9:00 A.M.—9:10 A.M.

Welcome Remarks

Dr. Shafaq Chaudhry, Asst. Director, Research Information Systems, UCF

9:10 A.M.—10:00 A.M.

Keynote Address

“The Problem with the STEM Crusade: Bringing Data Science to Women, Not the Other Way Around”

Daphne Kis, CEO of WorldQuant University and Co-Founder of Litmus Health

10:00 A.M.—11:00 A.M.

Panel

Disruption: How Data Science is Reinventing Industrial Age Processes and Business Operations

- Kathleen Walker, Manager of Information Systems and Data Services for Orlando Health
- Dr. Sreerupa Das, Lockheed Martin Fellow
- Madeline Schiappa, UCF PhD student in the Complex Adaptive Systems Lab

11:00 A.M.—12 P.M.

Networking and Refreshments

12:00 P.M.—2 P.M.

Live Stream from Stanford University

Featuring: “Using Data Effectively: Beyond Art and Science”

Hilary Parker, Data Scientist, Stitchfix

Pre-registration strongly encouraged by February 28th:

<https://www.ucffoundation.org/CECSWiDS>

Limited walk-up space available day of.

Questions? Reach out to: Francesca.Botteri@ucf.edu

#WiDS2019

#UCFDataSci